More Info Balancing my time between the animal world, FFA, and CDE's keeps my days full and eventful . There's something incredibly rewarding about working with animals, whether it's learning about their unique behaviors or helping them learn the way of the ring. Diving into FFA has opened up a whole new world of leadership and agricultural knowledge, which I find both challenging and fascinating. When I'm not doing either of the other activities I'm practicing for CDE competitions to ensure I'm the best I can be. Each activity brings something different to the table, making for a well-rounded and fulfilling life.
