More Info I am showing amazing dedication, focus, and energy through a wide variety of activities that help me grow both mentally and physically. Wilmington Youth Wrestling: I wrestling with Wilmington Youth Wrestling in the winter months, where I learn the fundamentals of wrestling—like balance, coordination, discipline, and sportsmanship. I compete in matches where I get to test my skills, learn from my teammates and coaches, and build confidence on the mat. MMA (Mixed Martial Arts): In addition to wrestling, I train in MMA. I practice striking, grappling, and self-defense in a safe and structured environment. This training helps me improve my agility, mental focus, and respect for others, while also teaching me how to stay calm and confident in challenging situations. The Strength Lab: To build strength and stay healthy, I work out at The Strength Lab. I follow age-appropriate workouts that teach me proper technique and body awareness. This training helps me stay strong for wrestling and MMA, while also learning about fitness, discipline, and setting goals. 4-H

– Rabbits and Goats: Outside of sports, I am actively involved in 4-H, where I raise and show rabbits and goats. I take great care of my animals, learning about feeding, grooming, and animal health. I show them at fairs and competitions, where I am judged on how well I present and handle them. Through 4-H, I am learning responsibility, patience, and how to speak confidently in front of others.
